

Centre for Training in Social Housing

Head of Learning and Development

Permanent position

Full time (36.75 hours per week)

Do you want an opportunity to head up a small but successful industry RTO, complete the brand new strategy and oversee its implementation.

We are looking for an experienced learning and development professional with knowledge of social and affordable housing or the community sector who combines a commitment to realising excellent outcomes for our Learners alongside the vision and interpersonal skills to grow our business.

The NSW Federation of Housing Associations is the State's peak industry body for not for profit community housing providers. The industry is experiencing rapid growth requiring a skilled and professional workforce. We have a strong commitment to social justice and to a culture of excellence within the community housing industry.

As a Registered Training Organisation, the Federation provides accredited and tailored training and assessment services through its business arm, the Centre for Training in Social Housing to our own members but also to housing professionals working in Government, to organisations in other states and territories and to homelessness and community service organisations.

We are looking for an experienced person to complete our organizational training strategy, oversee its implementation and assess its outcomes. You will identify training and developmental needs and drive suitable training initiatives that build a strong qualified workforce.

As Head of the Training Team you will be responsible for the training business, preparing business proposals, responding to tenders and ensuring that the RTO meets the required quality, financial and compliance standards.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders are encouraged to apply.

If you would like to be considered for this position, please submit your resume together with your responses to the above selection criteria to recruitment@communityhousing.org.au or by mail to Suite 301, 64-76 Kippax Street, Surry Hills NSW 2010

Closing date for applications is COB Friday 11th May 2018
