

On-site and other tailored training opportunities including induction for new staff

On-site training

We can provide training on site at your organisation. For example we have provided all the compulsory units of the Certificate IV in Social Housing to all the staff of one regional organisation who have used this for professional development for the whole of staff.

If staff are unable to attend all the training to complete the qualification they can then attend units in Sydney or undertake these through distance, e-learning or RPL pathways or a combination of these.

Induction training for social housing and homelessness workers

Housing Worker Induction training is available for new housing workers as either part of accreditation towards the Certificate IV in Social Housing or as a one to three day short course.

Induction Units are as follows:

CHCCCS004- Assess co-existing needs

CHCSOH001- Work with people experiencing or at risk of homelessness

CHCSOH010- Work with clients within the social housing system

Asset management training

We can provide training in the basics of asset management planning. If you want more technical training we can broker a technical expert to provide training on asset management.

Inspections training

We can provide training in how to carry out property inspections so that all your staff understand the terms of legislative and organisational requirements for inspecting properties.

Management training

We can provide training for middle managers that include management practice, staff supervision and leadership principles. Management training can also be customised to meet your specific requirements

Governance training

We also provide induction training for new board members. This training covers the roles and responsibilities of board members and assists board members to understand some of the key issues for a director of a community housing provider.

For further information and pricing on any of the above opportunities please contact the Training Manager
